

SOUTHERN DISTRICT LUTHERAN CHURCH ~ MISSOURI SYNOD ~ 74th CONVENTION

CONCORDIA COLLEGE ALABAMA ~ SELMA, ALABAMA

We are privileged to show the movie “THE FIRST ROSA” at our convention this year. This movie tells the story of Rosa Jinsey Young, who devoted her life to the education of black youth in central Alabama. Concordia College in Selma is one of the direct results of her efforts in this area. She was also instrumental in the start of several Lutheran churches in the area. On the grounds of Concordia is a delightful, informative museum dedicated to Ms. Young and curated by Mrs. Gracie Hollins who is a fount of information on Rosa!

The movie will be shown on campus at 1 PM and again at 8:20 PM on Thursday. We hope you take the opportunity to enjoy this special showing of “THE FIRST ROSA”!

You also may find the small town of Rosebud, AL an interesting side trip. Rosebud, AL was the home of Rosa Young and is home to the first school and church that she started. Included here are directions to Rosebud, coming from three different directions, as well as directions from Selma to Rosebud: (Thank you, Pastor McNair (Tony) Ramsey!)
